

How to Join The Blue Peter Fan Club

Use this activity sheet to find out how to join the official Blue Peter Fan Club (BPFC)! The fan club is the place for all Blue Peter fans; it's where you can chat, make friends, play puzzles and games. You can even see what is coming up in future shows and take part in live chats where you can chat to Official Blue Peter and get your questions answered by Blue Peter's celebrity guests!

Follow these steps to join other Blue Peter fans!

Sign Up for a BBC Account

To make sure that the Blue Peter Fan Club stays a safe place to be, all fans must be signed in with a BBC account. You can get an account by clicking here. You will need your grown-up to help you as the page needs their permission.

Log In to Your BBC Account

Now that you've made a BBC Account, you need to make sure it works and log in.

Go to the Blue Peter Fan Club Page

Now that you're logged in to the BBC, the next step is to join in with the BPFC page here! When you scroll down to the bottom of the page, you should be able to leave a comment and say hello to the other fans!

How to Join The Blue Peter Fan Club

Follow the Fan Club Rules

The main rule of the Fan Club is to have fun! Every fan should follow these three rules to keep everyone safe and happy:

- Don't share any personal information (such as your full name, address, phone number...).
- Always be kind and respectful to everyone.
- Stay on topic, to help new members get involved with the chat.

To keep everyone safe in the BPFCL, all of your comments are moderated. This means that they are checked, before being published, to make sure they are kind, friendly messages. As a result, they won't appear straight away and it might take a little while for them to show up. Also, remember that your message won't appear if it contains any personal details like your last name, address, email or phone number.

Welcome to the Fan Club!

Now that you are logged in and have said hello on the fan page, you can have a great time taking part in brilliant things, such as taking part in Fan Club Live and playing games. Make friends and have a fantastic time. You may even win the award of Fan of the Month - who knows?
